Impact evaluation April 2021: During the past year, the COVID-19 national pandemic has significantly limited the amount of sporting competitions that children have been able to take part in. During the two lockdowns (Mar – July 2020 and Jan – Mar 2021) Stockton Sports partnership have supported schools and families in continuing with sporting activities and maintaining levels of physical fitness by providing weekly Primary Sports Survival Packs which included lesson plans, activities and challenges for staff to use as part of their remote learning offer to families as well as for use in school as part of our key worker/vulnerable groups provision. The activities and challenges within packs were of high quality and were well-used by teachers across school. Children sent photos and videos via SeeSaw and Teams platforms to show their engagement with physical activities provided. During the summer term 2020, we received a certificate from the sports partnership to recognise our children’s participation in the virtual competitions on offer. We will keep the survival packs to re-use where appropriate in future years as a useful, high-quality resource. KI 1: The engagement of all pupils in regular physical activity KI 3: Increased confidence, knowledge and skills of all staff in teaching PE and sport. KI 5: Increased participation in competitive sport

This is now a heavily used area by children in year 5 (80 pupils) and year 6 (90 pupils).
